A hand-drawn sketch of a document layout. The page is divided into a header section at the top and a main content area below. The header contains a box on the left with the word "Logo" written inside, and a circle on the right containing three horizontal lines. The main content area is divided into three sections by horizontal lines. Each section contains a large rectangular box, likely representing an image or a large text block. To the right of the main content area is a vertical sidebar containing four circles arranged vertically. The entire sketch is drawn with simple black lines on a light background.
